

Congregation Beth Shalom preschoolers in Squirrel Hill planted a garden that and the Squirrel Hill Community Food Pantry with the proceeds. The children will keep a small amount of produce to study and donate most of it to the Pantry. Along with their teachers, the preschoolers will grow a variety of fruits and vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, straightneck squash, zucchini, pumpkin, watermelon, carrots, peas, lettuce and spinach. The preschoolers are up to the challenge of keeping up a garden in the city.
